

Message from the Director Dr. A. Aggarwal

Again, our undergraduate students have great achievements to their credit and the School is extremely proud of them. Today's Awards Program is to celebrate these achievements.

The School of Computer Science at the University of Windsor is a great School, with excellent researchers, great teachers and to top it all off, excellent students.

To the students, I want to convey to you that the School of Computer Science cares about your future. We want to provide you with an excellent education, involve you in our research, where Master's, Doctoral and Undergraduate students work together as a close-knit family.

To the Award winning students: We want to see your names on the Dean's Honour Roll this upcoming fall. You are role models. We want every student of the School to follow in your footsteps and achieve academic excellence.

To our teachers, take pride in your achievements and the achievements of your students. Their success is a direct result of your teaching skills and dedication.
